Kirksey, Lynn Grove to Play Opener in Tourney

Murray and New Concord Enter Play With Best Records

By RALPH WEBB

Calloway county basketball fans are all set for the annual county tourney and, according to Ed Filbeck, manager, all plans have been completed and all details have been worked out for what is predicted to be the best contest in the history of the net play. Kirksey and Lynn Grove will break the ice for the 1942 tourney Wednesday evening, February 18, at 7:30 in the Murray high gym. This game will be followed by the Training School-Faxon tilt at 8:30. The second teams will break into the meet Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock with Lynn Grove opposing Faxon and at 3:30 the same day Hazel will meet Concord. First team play will be resumed Thursday night, February 19, when Almo's Warriors will clash with the Concord Bedbirds at 7:30 o'clock and will be followed by the Hazel-Lions-Murray Tigers clash at 8:30 to end Thursday's play.

Friday afternoon, February 20, will find Murray High's second team facing Almo's "B" team at 2:30 o'clock and at 3:30 Kirksey's B's will meet the Training School B's to end the first round of play for both varsity and second teams. First team semi-finals will swing into play Friday evening, February 20, at 7:30 when the winner of the Hazel-Lions-Murray melec will clash with the winner of the Kirksey-Lynn Grove game and the winner of the Training School-Faxon tilt will meet. At 8:30 the same evening, the winner of the Almo-Concord game and the winner of the Hazel-Murray melec will clash.

Second team semi-finals are listed for Saturday morning, February 21 at 10 o'clock. The winner of the Lynn Grove-Faxon contest will meet the winner of the Hazel-Concord game and at 11 o'clock the winner of the Murray-Almo tilt will battle with the winner of the Kirksey-Training School game.

The B team finals will be played at the curtain-raiser Saturday evening, February 21, at 7:30 and will be followed by the first team finals at 8:30 o'clock.

Charlie Clift and Willard Carroll were chosen as referees for the tourney. Official timers and scorers for the games had not been named at press-time.

For the first time in several seasons Calloway county fans have witnessed five of their teams come down the home-stretch closely bunched and just which outfit will get under the wire as winner in the county meet this year is not an easy matter to determine. Concord has enjoyed an unusually good season and will be hard to beat in the tourney. Murray High has played excellent ball and has a smooth-working quint that has beaten outstanding teams in the state this season. Almo's Warriors, led by Phillips and Beale, split games with Concord and have looked plenty good all year. Kirksey's Eagles have shown a powerful scoring drive and a stubborn defense. The boys were put at a disadvantage when it became necessary to change coaches in mid-stream, however, they took the blow nicely and have fought game battles all the way. The Lynn Grove Wildcats started the season with comparatively new squad and lost a few close games before hitting their stride. They were barely nosed out by the fast Marion five who split games with the Murray Tigers. Hazel has fought to overcome the disaster caused by graduation and loss of other players by moving from Hazel. The Lions are spear-headed by Miller and Littleton, a pair of grand guards. They will give any team in the county a run for the money. Faxon has been the surprise team of the county. The Coyotes apparently started slow but have come along fast and have dented some of the top-notchers in the county this year. They will have to be watched in county tourney play. Coach Scales out at the Training School has worked hard with a group of inexperienced lads and has done a good job, too. The Colts have lost a number of games by close scores. However, there is not a gammer bunch of players in the county and our hats are off to a team that will not quit under any circumstances.

By actual observation during the season and taking in consideration teams played to date, Murray High (See Basketball Tourney, Page 2)

Home War Work Enrollment Less Than Expected

Enrollment for home war work Monday fell considerably below expectations, according to first reports on the number enrolled. A complete count has not been made so far, especially since enrollment is being continued at both banks here, at the county judge's office and at the postoffice. Enrollment will end this week.

The forms that are filled out will be sent to Murray College where the local chapter of the American Association of University Women, under the direction of Miss Ella Wehling, will classify them. After classification, the forms will be filed in the Chamber of Commerce office for ready reference by the County Civilian Defense board.

A number of explanations were given for the smaller enrollment than was expected. Chief among these was indifference. Others were that some were too busy, others did not want to sign up, and others they did not understand what it was for, and others said they didn't know anything about it.

A complete report on the enrollment, and further details and plans of the local Civilian Defense board will be available for publication, it was stated.

Supply of Stamps Exhausted During School Thrift Day

Thrift Day yesterday at the Murray high school was too great a success—all the 10-cent Defense Stamps at the postoffice were purchased by the pupils and still more were demanded.

Many pupils purchased 25-cent and 50-cent denominations, and two students purchased $25 bonds. With the supply of stamps exhausted, Thrift Day could not be extended to the Training School yesterday, as was originally planned.

In a recent meeting, all teachers of the Murray high school and the college training school met with Supt. W. J. Caplinger and agreed to conduct a Thrift Day each Wednesday in the two schools. On that day they would encourage the pupils to purchase Defense Stamps. Yesterday was the first Thrift Day and it was much more successful than expected, according to Mr. Caplinger. He said that the Thrift Day plan would be continued as soon as more stamps were available, which would be in the near future.

NO FREE COPIES

One of the major considerations in consolidating the West Kentuckian and Ledger and Times was to save paper because of the war. The two mailing lists have been consolidated, all delinquents on both lists have been eliminated but there are still a number of complimentary copies, being sent to high schools, postmasters, rural mail carriers, and the like. It will be necessary to discontinue the practice of sending complimentary copies of the Ledger and Times and this is noticed that they will be dropped from the list this week. We are publishing this notice so that our friends will have time to renew subscriptions that have heretofore been on the complimentary list if they care for the paper to continue at the published rates. We also wish to appeal to these friends for their understanding in our effort to give Murray and Calloway County a better newspaper by economical operation and conservation of materials.

230 IN COUNTY TAKING COURSE IN FIRST AID

New Red Cross Class to Start Week After Next

Approximately 230 persons in Calloway county have either completed or are now taking the Red Cross Standard First Aid course which is an important part of national defense.

A new class is scheduled to start week after next, with Miss Myra Bagwell instructing. All persons interested in enrolling are asked to call Mrs. Edd Duguid, Jr., phone 174, as soon as possible. Citizens of Murray and Calloway are unusually fortunate in being offered this opportunity, as many other small cities through out the county lack instructors with the necessary Red Cross qualifications to teach. This course offers comprehensive training in such important things as artificial respiration, all types of bandaging, stoppage of arterial and venous bleeding, application of splints and treatment of fractures, as well as treatment of all small emergencies met daily in every home and on every street and highway.

The classes taught by Mrs. A. M. Wolfson and Miss Suzanne Snook will come to a close this week, with 27 completing the course. Twenty-four high school students have finished the Junior Red Cross Standard First Aid course with Mrs. Tom Rowlett instructing. Seventeen pupils are now taking this same course at the Training School. Mrs. Rowlett will give the Junior Red Cross First Aid to the seventh and eighth grades.

A class of 14 college girls has completed First Aid in the college dormitory under the direction of Miss Murrell Johnson. Another class of 16 Murray college girls, taught by Miss Grace Wyatt, will finish in another week. Mrs. Wolfson, Miss Suzanne Snook, and Miss Wyatt are volunteer instructors and donated their services for the entire course.

One hundred and 30 NYA students are now enrolled in First Aid. These classes have just begun and are taught by Miss A. B. Strong, Miss Netsy Muncy, Miss Gladys Snyder, Fritz Weber and Wesley Kemper.

The men of Calloway are urged to become interested in First Aid as their services are especially necessary in the important transporting and lifting phase of the work.

MURRAY TOBACCO MARKET PRICES REMAIN STEADY

Average Last Week Was $12.51 for 465,005 Pounds Sold

The Murray tobacco market remained firm this week, with prices at very satisfactory levels.

Day to day averages have declined slightly, but this is not indicative of anything except that much of the highest grade leaf has already been marketed, and that slightly lower grades, "predominant in the sales."

Total sales on the local floors last week amounted to 465,005 pounds, which sold for $58,171.80, at an average of $12.51, which local tobacco men state is highly satisfactory. This does not include tobacco that went to the Association.

Sales volume on the entire Western District of cured tobacco markets last week was slightly smaller than in the previous week but the general average showed a small increase, according to a report by the Department of Agriculture. The report states that average prices by grades were unchanged to somewhat lower and the offerings were of generally better quality. Receipts of the Western Dark Fired Tobacco Growers Association decreased. This indicates that more tobacco is selling on the floor; less is going for the advance.

Sales for the first three days of this week on the three Murray floors were as follows:

Tuesday, February 9
Growers—46,095 pounds brought $6,559.76 for an average of $13.36.
Outland—34,820 pounds brought $4,057.54 for an average of $11.65.
Farris—32,135 pounds brought $4,336.74 for an average of $13.50.
Total sales—113,050 pounds sold for $14,954.04 for an average of $12.89 average.

Tuesday, February 10
Growers—34,565 pounds brought $4,893.87 for an average of $11.91.
Outland—41,085 pounds brought $4,893.87 for an average of $11.91.
Farris—32,625 pounds brought $3,908.35 for an average of $11.98.
Total sales—108,285 pounds sold for $13,014.65 for an average of $12.02.

Wednesday, February 11
Growers—34,315 pounds brought $3,970.37 for an average of $11.57.
Outland—45,410 pounds sold for $5,068.87 for an average of $11.24.
Farris—22,280 pounds brought $2,941.30 for an average of $13.14.
Total sales—101,805 pounds sold for $11,980.54 for an average of $11.77.

Murray Lions Club Proves Need for Stronger Air Force

The need for a stronger air force was proven by the Murray Lions Club recently during its attendance contest.

Because of its weakness, those members who were attached to the air force division of the club during the contest will have to subsist on pork and beans and ice water while their more fortunate comrades of the army and navy will be served a sumptuous chicken dinner topped off by cigars.

The contest has been in progress for several weeks. When it began, the club was divided into army, navy and air force. It ended Tuesday night with the navy out in front. The army came in second, and because of this honor will have the privilege of furnishing the chicken dinner and cigars for the army members and themselves next Tuesday night. Airman Vestor Orr and his members, having taken third place, will have a table all to themselves at which they will enjoy pork and beans and ice water.

Men 20-44 to Register For Military Service

Annual Boy Scout Drive Begins With Kick-off Breakfast

Nine Registration Centers Set Up by Local Board

All men aged 20 to 44 inclusive, will be required to register Monday, February 16, for military service. This does not include the men who have previously registered for military service.

Nine registration centers will be set up by Local Selective Service Board No. 20 in this county. These will be at the Hazel high school, New Concord high school, Faxon high school, Almo high school, Kirksey high school, Lynn Grove high school, the court room of the courthouse in Murray, the administration building at Murray State College, and at the Local Board office in the Gatlin building, Murray.

The registration will be held between 7 a. m. and 9 p. m. Required by law to register are all male citizens of the United States and all male aliens residing in the United States, (not previously registered) who attained their 20th birthday on or before December 31, 1941, and who have not attained their 45th birthday on or before February 16, 1942. In other words, all men who are not now registered who were born between February 17, 1897 and December 31, 1921, must register.

As far as possible, men should register at the registration place closest to their home. "Home" is the place where the man actually is living at the time of registration—the residence where he will receive his mail without delay. It is the intent of the law and the purposes of Selective Service Regulations that each man be registered at his home address and be subject to call to fill quotas from the Local Board which has jurisdiction over the registrant's home address. A definite residence address must be given where a registrant can be reached. Selective Service Regulations prohibit any interference or dictation by a registrar when a registrant who has more than one place of residence is making his choice as to which he desires recorded as his home address.

Men unavoidably away from home may register at any registration place in any State on Registration Day, February 16.

Hospitals will have special registrars for the sick. Any person who is ill but not in the hospital on Registration Day must have a competent person apply to registration officials for authority to register him.

A man prevented from registering on February 16, by circumstances beyond his control, or because he is not present in the United States or its territories, shall as soon as possible after Registration Day present himself to the nearest Local Selective Service Board for registration.

Men who register will merely be required to answer 10 simple questions, contained on a four-by-six inch filing card, as follows:

(1) Name of registrant; (2) Place of residence; (3) Mailing address; (4) Other than place of residence; (5) Age in years; (6) Telephone; (7) Occupation; (8) Name and address of person who will always know your address; (9) Employer's name and address; (10) Place of employment or business.

After a registrant has answered the questions and signed his name to his registration card, he will be given a registration certificate signed by the registrar. He must have his certificate in his personal possession at all times, as under the Selective Service Regulations failure to possess the certificate, or to show it to authorized persons constitutes a violation of the regulations and is to be considered prima facie evidence of failure to register.

There will be no physical examination at the time of registration. Physical examinations will be given only after Local Boards have considered the registrant's classification and determined that, subject to this physical test, he is eligible for military training and service.

Basketball Tourney

and Concord will go into the tourney with perhaps slight edges over the six remaining teams. It has been proved, however, that tourney play doesn't always run parallel with regular season play. In my opinion, there are at least four teams in the county at present who could win championship honors. I do not think the outcome of the meet is a settled fact. Any one of four teams (which I do not care to mention) is capable of walking off the floor Saturday night, February 21, with championship honors.

The results in county net play for the past 12 years are as follows:
1931-Hazel 44, Almo 40
1932-Murray High 24, Hazel 18
1933-Kirksey 22, Lynn Grove 12
1934-Lynn Grove 22, Hazel 18
1935-Kirksey 24, Concord 20
1936-Kirksey 27, Lynn Grove 21
1937-Kirksey 41, Murray 15
1938-Concord 41, Kirksey 28
1939-L. Grove 33, Concord 26
1940-L. Grove 28, Almo 27
1941-Kirksey 24, T. School 29
1942-Concord 29, Kirksey 10.

Bred's Swamp Union University Five 68-36

Coach Rube Mountjoy's Murray thoroughbred were entirely too good for the Union University Bulldogs from Jackson, Tenn., and easily downed the Tennesseans by a score of 68-36 Tuesday night in the Bred's last home tilt.

This was one of the wildest scoring tilts in Murray's 1941-42 record. The thoroughbreds have won 14 out of 16 starts this season.

The thoroughbreds will journey to Middle Tennessee at Murfreesboro, Tenn., Friday night and will return to Murray Saturday night.

Next week the Murrayans will again take to the road to meet Memphis State February 20 and Delta State, Cleveland, Miss., Saturday night. Delta State will be "the" supreme test of the road trip.

Redbirds Win Two on Road Trip

The New Concord high school basketball team again brought glory to their school and county when they returned from a two-day trip into Christian and Todd counties with victories over Pembroke and Trenton. The Redbirds defeated Pembroke for the second time this season by a score of 31-23 Friday night and on Saturday night they invaded Trenton, already champion of Todd county tournament, and ran over them in good style by a score of 28-15.

These victories made it 17 wins for the Redbirds out of 19 starts. This is a record that no school would be ashamed to own.

Pat McCutcheon's boys have only one more game before the county tournament next week, until that time they will take it easy.

The Redbirds will meet the Almo Warriors in their first round of play in the county tournament next Thursday evening, February 19, at 7:30 o'clock.

County Basketball

Murray High 31, Goves 22
Showing signs of a let-down following two hard weeks of basketball, the Murray Tigers played Helless ball to defeat Goves High of Paris, Tenn., by a score of 31-22 on the Murray floor Friday night.

Yale and Alton of Murray, with 12 and 11 points respectively, led the scoring attack. Leggan of Goves led his teammates with 40 markers.

New Concord 28, Trenton 15
TRENTON, Tenn., Feb.—New Concord, Ky., beat Trenton here last Saturday night, 28 to 15.

Marion 32, Lynn Grove 14
Marion high school's Blue Terceros defeated Lynn Grove 32 to 14 at Marion Saturday night. Coach Fred Clark's boys led by quarters 6-2, 17-4 and 25-8.

College Boxers Take U. of Florida, Purdue

Monday night, February 9, the Murren defeated the Purdue team 6-2 in the John W. Carr Health building before a large and enthusiastic crowd.

The Murray State boxing schedule for the remainder of the season is as follows:
Feb. 15, Arkansas Tech, here.
Feb. 23, Catholic Univ., here.
March 2, Arkansas Tech at Russellville, Ark.

Food For Freedom

The government has asked American farmers for the greatest agricultural production in history in 1942.

Already Kentucky farmers, including those in Calloway county, have planned increases in food production much greater than the goals set up by the Department of Agriculture. Examples of planned increases over 1941 crops in Kentucky are: milk, 20%; hogs, 34%; eggs, 32%; gardens, 7%; soybeans, 92%; beef marketings, 18%; etc.

Farmers, the Peoples Savings Bank will be more than glad to help you in any way it can in this all-important work of yours this coming season. Feel free to call on us.

Emergency Crop and Feed Loan Office Prepared to Finance Eligible Farmers

According to Ernest P. Fisher, field supervisor for the St. Louis Emergency Crop and Feed Loan Office, all farmers are being urged to cooperate with the farm defense program sponsored by the United States Department of Agriculture by planting and cultivating crops, both for sale and for home use.

The Emergency Crop and Feed Loan Office of St. Louis, in cooperation with this program, is prepared to finance all eligible farmers. Applicants will, of course, be required to plant home gardens to produce sufficient food for their workstock and subsistence animals, and to comply with the soil conservation program.

These loans are made primarily to small farmers—owners or tenants—who have land and the necessary implements and workstock or power with which to operate, and who are unable to secure assistance on reasonable terms from any private source or from a Production Credit Association.

The crop loans will be made in amounts commensurate with an applicant's actual cash needs in producing his 1942 crop, plus the necessary expenses incident to complying with the defense program. These loans are secured by a first mortgage on the crops to be financed.

Feed loans to finance the purchase and production of feed are made to farmers who are maintaining livestock to be fed for the market, as breeding animals with increase to be marketed, or for production of dairy products, wool, etc. These loans are secured by a first mortgage on the stock to be fed.

The emergency crop and feed loans are available to all farmers who can establish their eligibility according to the rules and regulations, and to those farmers who have received prior loans and whose record of repayment indicates a conscientious effort to discharge their obligations. Both types of loans made bear interest at the rate of four per cent per annum.

Instructions For Feeding Dry Cows

At least a month, and preferably six to eight weeks, is necessary to give a dairy cow a rest to get her in proper condition for the next lactation. This dry period gives the dairyman an opportunity to bring the thin cow up to normal flesh before freshening. It is well known that cows calving in good flesh will produce more than thin cows during the early weeks of the milking period.

Studies at the New York Experiment Station showed that for each 70 pounds of grain fed during the dry period, one hundred pounds of milk were returned in the following lactation. Ordinarily with good roughage, four to six pounds of grain per day will be sufficient. A practical dry cow ration is one that contains equal parts of the crushed corn and cob, wheat bran, and crushed oats, with a decrease in the amount of crushed corn and cob during the last two weeks before calving. Wheat bran is especially valuable during this period because it is light, cooling, and has a slightly laxative effect.

Marine Recruiting Officer Coming to Murray Feb. 22-23

A representative of the Marine Corps Recruiting Service will be at the Murray post office on February 22 and 23 to receive applications for enlistment in the U. S. Marine Corps.

Applicants must have good physical records, at least an 8th grade education, excellent character references, and be between the ages of 17 and 30.

It pays to read the classifieds.

Building Important In Increasing Milk Production in 1942

Kentucky has been asked for a 12 per cent increase in milk production in 1942 over the 1941 production. This is a minimum goal; actually a greater percentage increase is desired.

This is a substantial increase, yet the ratio of feed prices to milk prices is better than it has been in some time. This is the dairyman's opportunity to do his part for National Defense, and at the same time improve his dairy farm income.

Dairy farmers must realize that any immediate increase in production must be brought about by more efficient use of present equipment, cows, and available feed supplies. The following suggestions may be helpful in bringing about increased production:

I. Care and Management
A. Provide shelter from damp drafts, cold rain, snow, and sleet.
B. Keep in mind the importance of regularity of care.

C. Kindness in handling dairy cows results in greater milk production.
D. Allow each cow six to eight weeks dry period.

E. Feed the dry cow liberally, both grain and roughage.
F. Supply an abundance of fresh, clean water.

G. Practice thorough and complete milking.
H. Endeavor to improve and maintain herd health.

II. Feed and Feeding
A. Grain Feeding
1. Make use of home-grown grains in concentrate mixture.

2. Balance the grain mixture with roughage being fed.
3. Grind all grains to medium fineness.
4. Feed grain to each cow according to amount of milk produced.

5. Supply salt in the grain mixture, free access or at frequent intervals.
6. When additional minerals are needed, steamed bonemeal is the most economical source.

7. A 12 per cent protein mixture is suitable for dry cows.
B. Roughage Feeding
1. Pasture
a. Provide pasture for as many months as possible.

b. Make use of cover crops for pasture.
c. Improve permanent pastures.
d. Practice better pasture management.

2. Hay
a. Feed all legume hay the cows will eat without wasting.
b. Plan to produce more legume hay.
c. Improve quality by cutting at earlier stages of maturity.
d. Increase yield and quality by use of lime and phosphate.

Farmers to Meet at Princeton Feb. 26-27

More food produced on the farm, for use in the farm home, will be one of the subjects discussed at the annual meeting at the Western Kentucky Experiment Station at Princeton February 26-27. More vegetables grown in the home garden, more canning, more chickens and eggs and more milk, all in the interest of a better home food supply, will be discussed the morning of the first day.

Other subjects listed in the program include the growing of hybrid corn, feeding beef and dairy cattle, the farm outlook for this year, the agricultural conservation program, the use of good seeds, and farm cooperation.

Lt. C. Frank Schilt, of the U. S. Marines, was the first living flyer to receive the Congressional Medal of Honor. It was presented to him in 1928 by the late President Calvin Coolidge.

State Farm Bureau Recommends Double Rural Road Fund

The Kentucky Farm Bureau Federation, in a recent statement of policy, offers a three-fold program regarding county road and bridge bonds. This program reads as follows:

County Road and Bridge Bonds
In our opinion, this presents one of the most difficult and important problems facing Kentucky at the present time. It is rather interesting to note that of our approximately 27 million dollar collective county debt as of June 30, 1938, nine million dollars were in funding bonds, while twice this amount or 18 million dollars were in county road and bridge bonds. This latter is unquestionably a matter of state responsibility.

The problem is extremely complex and the solution is far from simple. We are offering a three-fold program as a suggestion.
(1) Increase the rural highway fund from $2,000,000 to $4,000,000.

Those counties without county road and bridge bond indebtedness would receive double their present allocations for secondary road construction and maintenance. The other counties, with heavy road and bridge bond obligations, could spend the additional state-aid for construction and maintenance and apply an equivalent extra amount from the 20 cent road levy each year to amortize their bonded indebtedness.

(2) In connection with this additional state-aid, county governments should be required to comply with these sections of the County Aid Act of 1936 relative to improved budgets and audits. State-aid should be coupled with improved business methods in county government and the strictest possible economy and efficiency in county affairs.

(3) In the refunding of county debts, responsible state officials should be directed by law to demand lower interest rates, in line with prevailing interest rates, certainly for these years beyond which the county originally promised to pay. All refunded bonds should be serial bonds, subject to a business-like amortization and retirement plan.

In view of the rapidly rising federal debt in connection with the war program, it does seem doubly important to completely retire county and local debts in Kentucky—as has already been done for the state, while national income is at a high peak.

There are two observations we desire to offer in connection with this suggested threefold proposal: First, it is not advanced as the perfect plan. It simply represents the cooperative thinking of farm people on this long neglected problem and of their desire to crystallize the thinking of fair minded Kentuckians on a most important question of their state government, that so far has been entirely overlooked or forgotten. We would welcome the opportunity of supporting a better plan, a sounder or more equitable program, if it is brought forth by the State Administration or some other group.

Second, this program was agreed to by district legislative sessions before fire rationing and other war measures went into effect, that may drastically reduce road revenue. It may become the patriotic duty of farmers to delay at this time their request for increased funds for farm-to-market roads. Such action on our part should hasten a thorough study into this whole problem by proper state officials, with a sincere and earnest desire to find the soundest and most practical solution possible.

Such a delayed request does not affect in any way the imperative need for complete state cooperation in working out a practical plan for the repayment of county and local debts.

A British soldier once sent a letter 20,000 miles, from Singapore to Boston, Mass., seeking enlistment in the U. S. Marine Corps at the close of his army hitch.

FSA Medical Plan Insures Against Big Doctor Bill

The Farm Security Administration has formed a medical care program in many counties which has proven very satisfactory. The entire program, works close with the State Medical Association and local doctors. Each family has the free choice of the doctor who is participating. Fees are paid by the family at the beginning of the operating period and are held by a bonded trustee.

The most common cost of $12 is paid for minor and very plus $1 for each child. An medical care money is pooled; a proper amount is allotted for hospitalization and emergency needs, including surgical care; and the balance is divided into equal monthly installments.

In plain words the medical care program is an association worked on the same plan as simple insurance.

More Tomatoes and Peas to Can Asked

State United States Department of Agriculture War Boards have been asked to seek for canning about a fourth more tomatoes and about a third more peas than were produced last year. It is announced that the Department of Agriculture will buy at prices which will enable cooperating canners to pay growers at least $3 a ton above the comparable average 1940 price for tomatoes for canning and $17.50 a ton above the comparable average 1940 price for peas for canning.

The Medical Care Program is a new thing for this county, but it is working extra well in other counties; so the same thing can work here.

The U. S. Marine Corps was under the jurisdiction of the War Department until April, 1789, when Congress created the Navy Department.

FARM MEETING IMPORTANT
The annual mid-winter agricultural meeting at Murray State College today and tomorrow is important because of the prominence of those on the program, and because agriculture will be relied upon so heavily to help win the first total war in which we have engaged.

Farmers will be up against the nation's No. 1 production problem during the war. In order to win we must have enormously increased supplies of farm products of all kinds and the farmers are asked to produce it with less labor, patched and over-hauled equipment, and with supplies that must be purchased at tremendously increased prices.

The administration has shown a disposition to see that farmers get a reasonable price for their products, but it has had so much to say about price limitations that it has created the impression in some circles that farmers are profiteers. Such is far from true.

For the past twenty-five years farmers have insisted on parity prices for farm products, but parity is based on the price of industrial products of days gone by. Such prices have increased from 25% to 100% in a year, and the farmer will "come out the small end of the horn" to attempt to limit his 1942 prices to last year's parity.

These problems are but a few of those the farmers must solve to remain solvent and, at the same time, increase their production and usefulness to the nation. Under former slip-shod methods economic ruin for hundreds of thousands would undoubtedly be the outcome, but today farmers have available the best advice and the most approved methods of management. They have able leaders who are convinced that prosperous farmers will do the nation more good in its hour of need than those who are handicapped by poverty.

The manufacturing structure of our country, in times of war as well as peace, rests squarely upon the foundation of agriculture. Those who safeguard that foundation and prevent partisanship, greed and jealousy from undermining it, or weakening it, will render the country a lasting service, and farmers who will lend their cooperation to the wartime agricultural program put into effect by their leaders will do themselves, as well as the nation, a genuine service.

Calloway and adjoining counties of Kentucky and Tennessee are fortunate, indeed, to have in their midst an institution such as Murray State College, and no program of the college is more vital to our welfare than the agricultural program.

TWO MILLIONS FOR AIR FORCE

The Army has announced a goal of two million trained aviators to man the 185,000 planes to be produced in 1942 and 1943.

This is by far the largest air force ever undertaken by any nation on earth and indicates our military leaders expect to dominate the air over every combat zone our forces enter.

It also indicates the President intends to make good his promise to the American people of December 8 that we will meet and defeat the enemy on his own territory.

Two million aviators will not, of course, be needed for defense. Probably three-fourths of the number will be used for offense—the traditional American method of waging war.

Twelve to eighteen months is a long time to wait for victory, especially when we realize that our present inadequate forces will suffer many reverses in the meantime, but when there is such a promise that the victory will be complete our sufferings will be less unendurable.

The record being made by our airplanes in the Far East now is one that makes every American proud. It has counted for thirty or forty enemy ships, including one of his best battleships, without aid from naval vessels, and it has kept the China Road open by whipping Jap raiders over Rangoon.

What two million American aviators will do with 85,000 airplanes is beyond power of comprehension, but goes without saying the Axis will learn that the nation which gave the airplane to the world as an instrument of progress knows how to use it as an engine of destruction and its provocation demands it.

PUBLISHERS TO SAVE PAPER

The Southern Newspaper Publishers Association has agreed to ask its membership to reduce the size of their newspapers for the duration of the war in order to conserve newsprint and release a greater supply of wood pulp for the manufacture of gun-cotton.

This is a patriotic move and will result in saving thousands of tons of white paper, but the Federal government can save more paper than any consumer if it were disposed.

As the largest consumer of paper of all types the government can save many tons, and at the same time infer a lasting favor to publishers of daily and weekly newspapers by discontinuing the practice of supplying newsprint to the press through its non-defense agencies.

Probably ninety-five per cent of this type of publicity ends its way to the waste paper baskets in newspaper offices, but the greatest waste is in the time of publishers

Your Legislature

By W. F. BLACKBERRY

After a week of charges and counter charges, accusations and denials, the Kentucky General Assembly enacted into law a few bills of minor importance, and now face legislation that will materially affect every individual Kentuckian.

This important legislation to which I refer is House Bill No. 146, introduced by Henry Ward of McCracken County, and known as the TVA Enabling Act. The bill, which provides for the sale of purchase of electricity in Kentucky by the Tennessee Valley Authority, a Federal project, is so controversial that an attempt on my part to explain it might find me in the midst of the argument. It is understood that the State and Federal administrations are battling the bill; however, John Kirtley, Chairman of the Public Utilities Commission and a $5,000,000 per year appointee of Governor Johnson, spoke last week in opposition to this measure. Kirtley's denunciation of the TVA bill, in its present form, brought an immediate rebuke from Governor Johnson. The Governor, in identical messages written from his bedside in the Mansion where he is confined with illness and directed to both the House and the Senate, stated: "The one accurate statement of Mr. Kirtley was that he was not speaking for the Governor." The letter further stated in part: "The only thing I am concentrating on is the passage of the TVA Bill, and I am going to pass it."

The House will vote on the bill this week, and it is my prediction that it will pass by a comfortable margin. It is a little too early to predict the outcome of this TVA bill in the Senate, as there is organized opposition to its passage. You may expect the TVA Enabling Act to hold the spotlight in Frankfort for at least another week and then give way to Senate Bill No. 12 which calls for the repeal of the State Income Tax law.

The Senate passed a bill to increase the salary of the Attorney General from $4,000 to $5,000, yearly. Senator E. J. Stahl of Fulton County offers bills to regulate the method of obtaining proof as to the age of applicants for old age assistance, and that all applications and records concerning applicants be confidential.

House Bill No. 43, introduced by C. C. May of Morgan County, to furnish free text books to children in public high schools was approved by a vote of 55 to 26. The bill was received by the Senate and referred to the Education Committee. The bill carried no appropriation and the administration says there is not enough money to buy the books even if the bill becomes a law; however, Byron H. Rogers of Webster County has since offered a bill to increase the annual appropriation for free text books from $500,000 to $750,000.

House Bill No. 79 to increase motor "gross" weight from 18,000 pounds to 22,000 was approved by a vote of 84 to 1 by the Representatives. The bill is now in the Senate and while it may not be approved in its present form, a measure to increase both the size and weight of trucks using Federal highways will probably be enacted.

TVA Legislation

Governor Johnson has declared his support for the bill acceptable to the TVA. By doing so the passage is assured, and puts him on the defensive against objectionable amendments.

This is very gratifying to the users of electricity in Kentucky. It is unfortunate that the issue was not supported two years ago. The decision of the court brings the issue direct to the legislature.

Thanks a million for quick action.

Calloway Women to Speak Over WPAD

Mrs. H. H. Kemp, Lynn Grove, and Mrs. Mary Montgomery, New Concord, will speak over WPAD Monday, February 16, during the weekly Purchase Homemakers program from 2:30 to 2:45 p.m.

The subject of their talk will be "The Farm and Home Convention," which they recently attended in Lexington.

and newspaper employees in inspecting it. It is risky business to discard mail without examining it, because there is too much danger of destroying something valuable, but in recent years the government has imposed on newspapers a ridiculous degree by furnishing them with publicity they never use.

And when information is sought on some particular subject it is next to impossible to obtain it. There is so much red-tape to go through that the need for specific information often passes before it can be had.

We have in mind an experience we had a few years ago when so much was being said about New Deal spending and the mounting Federal debt. We wanted a financial statement of the government's assets in order to compare it with a statement of liabilities, but after thirty days of effort we discovered that there's no such information obtainable from any governmental source. There doesn't even exist a statement of the value of real estate owned by the government, to say nothing of its other assets.

The Senate passed and sent to the White House a joint authorization for a $500,000,000 loan to China. The White House announced the U. S. through the RAF has developed a second, pamphlet over several hundred French subjects in the "biggest pamphlet bombing job ever done." The first pamphlet, announced a month ago, stressed the traditional friendship between this country and France, the second told of the rapidly expanding U. S. war production.

A Navy aviation training program designed to develop 30,000 of the best pilots in the world annually for the Navy and Marine Corps will be put into operation by May 1, Navy Secretary Knox announced. Applications for training are now being accepted. Mr. Knox asked U. S. high school youth to aid the Navy by producing 500,000 aircraft models of 50 different types of fighting planes to be used in aircraft recognition and range estimation in gunnery practice and for training civilians in aircrew recognition. The Office of Civilian Defense invited college flyers and aviation enthusiasts to participate in the Civilian Air Patrol which is seeking to enlist 50,000 civilian pilots. Sixteen years is the minimum age for enrollment for ground service, and 18 for flight duty. The Civilian Aeronautics Administration reported a 60 per cent increase in private flying during 1941.

The Navy and Marine Corps reported 1,224 officers and men missing or prisoners of war.

The Maritime Commission planned its ship-day construction schedule by launching 14 new vessels during the last half of January.

Production and Conversion

War Department Production Director Knudsen announced the Chrysler Corporation will construct a $100,000,000 plant in Chicago to turn out Wright 12-cylinder air-cooled engines.

The typewriter manufacturing industry which produced 1,000,000 machines in 1941 has been asked to cut its normal production 25 per cent immediately and convert its facilities to war production.

EDUCATION IN THE SOUTH

(This is the fourth in a series on education in the South.)

It is said by some of the opponents of federal aid to education that the states should first put their fiscal houses in order. The southern states, those to greatest need of federal aid, have made much of the most notable progress in the nation in this respect.

The southern states lead the nation in the extent to which they depend upon state financial support of public schools in contrast to local support. In 10 of the 14 states, state funds for elementary and secondary schools exceed 40 per cent of the total funds available for that purpose as compared with less than 30 per cent for the nation as a whole. Only one of the 14 falls below the national average. There is no one of the southern states that has not enacted substantial legislation for financial equalization of school support for a fixed minimum standard of educational opportunity. As to methods of distributing school funds, the majority of these states compare favorably with any of the other states of the Union. Not only do they levy death taxes, income taxes, luxury taxes, and the like, but they lay the highest rates on gasoline, cigarettes, inheritances, and middle-class incomes. They far outstrip the rest of the nation in the proportion of taxes derived from non-property sources. In comparison with the rest of the nation they have with few exceptions "as far as taxation is concerned" put their fiscal houses in order.

Furthermore, these states compare favorably with the rest of the nation in their effort to support public education, effort being measured by the percentage of their potential tax resources spent for education. These 14 states all fall below the national average in tax resources per child, but 13 of them exceed the average national effort to support public education.

Children and Revenue

In the 14 southern states there are found nearly 29 per cent of the nation's population, 33 1-3 per cent of the nation's children five to 17 years old, about 30 per cent of the nation's teachers, and only 16 per cent of the total public revenue available for the public schools of the nation.

Southern states have made the most superior effort in the nation to improve their school organization. Although only about half of the rural pupils of the nation are in these states, they have per cent of the nation's consolidated schools. In the matter of administrative organization and personnel the southern states are by no means the means the most backward of the states. Nine of the 14 are primarily organized as county units of school administration and eight of them select their county superintendents by boards of education, not by popular election.

It is not so much an improvement in our system of administering schools in the south that is needed it is money to pay for teachers and equipment. It is not lack of effort in the effort that produces inadequate school facilities it is lack of money. The south stands out in front in its systems of administration and school finance, and in superior effort and willingness to support schools. The south needs and deserves a reasonable amount of federal financial assistance for its schools.

You can't see it— You can't smell it— You can't feel it— YOU CAN'T TAKE IT!

Civilian Defense

The Senate passed and sent to the House a bill to create a $100,000,000 fund to compensate American property owners for war damages. The fund would compensate for losses other than life or personal injury to the extent of $15,000. OGD Executive Landis announced cities in target areas will not be required to submit requisitions for protective equipment including gas masks and auxiliary fire-fighting equipment to be provided by $150,000 of Federal funds. He said the equipment would be allocated to the various areas according to their likelihood of attack, vulnerability and resources.

Attorney General Biddle established War Frauds Unit within the Department of Justice to prosecute all cases involving frauds in connection with the war effort.

Civilian Supply

Price Administrator Henderson announced rationing of new passenger autos to eligible users will not begin before February 26, and delivery of cars purchased but not delivered before the $15,000 OGD freeze-all sales will begin February 12. The WPB Food Supply Branch asked smaller retailers to take care of small industrial users who have bought sugar from them in the past so they can conduct business on a minimum basis. The OPA Consumer Division said food products sold during the emergency still must carry a label telling the fiber content of the article.

Price Administrator Henderson set ceiling prices for electric phonographs, radios and all tubes and parts at the levels of last October 15. He also set ceiling prices for washing machines and irons. Wholesale and retail prices were set for passenger autos under the rationing program, including a provision to compensate dealers for storage expenses. The WPA reported that since the beginning of the defense program, retail have been increased in 114 of 115 vital defense areas surveyed.

Kentucky Begins "Salvage For Victory" Drive

Kentuckians, anxious to help America's drive to win the war, will get their chance in the "Salvage for Victory" campaign now getting into full swing.

E. C. O'Roar of Frankfort, state chairman, and G. Lee McClain, of Bardonia, executive secretary, said the work of gathering waste materials for wartime production was "just as vital" as other phases of the nation's war and defense preparations.

At first, the campaign will be concentrated on putting to use old scrap iron, rubber and paper. Other waste materials such as tin, glass, and other materials will be reached in the future.

"Our purpose," said McClain, "will be to reach into every Kentucky county, into every precinct, into every community and into every home to gather these materials as necessary to the production of munitions and other implements of war."

LESSONS IN TAXATION

To make it easier for taxpayers to meet the increased taxes required by the National Defense Program, the Treasury Department is offering for sale two series of notes, both dated August 1, 1941, and maturing August 1, 1943.

In January of each year two series will be provided so that a taxpayer can choose the series during the entire year in which he is receiving his income for use in payment of taxes due the following year. The reason for the two-year note is to permit a taxpayer, if he so desires, to begin saving in January of one year and continue through that year to save for his taxes due the following year.

All notes are sold at par and accrued interest. When presented in payment of income taxes, they will be received at par and accrued interest up to and including the month in which such taxes are paid. Interest will not accrue beyond the maturity of the notes. If not presented in payment of income taxes, they will be redeemed for cash under certain specified conditions at the purchase price paid for the notes. In other words, the taxpayer, if he redeems the notes for cash, gets back just the amount he paid.

Complete information about these Treasury notes will be found in a Treasury Department circular available at local banks, Federal Reserve Banks and branches, or Treasury Department, Washington, D. C.

This way, we hope Jack Miller in a Rob Downs will get their burning done by the middle of the summer.

Nutrition Program Under Way in Kentucky

Speeded up by immediate wartime demands for a stronger people, Kentucky's better-nutrition program is actively under way in all 120 counties with special county organizations handling local problems, according to Dr. Stacie Erikson, chairman of the state committee and head of the University of Kentucky home economics department.

Related agencies actively participating in the program—civilian war work on a large scale—include the following: the extension service of the College of Agriculture and Home Economics; Works Progress Administration; Farm Security Administration; service clubs and ministerial associations; county medical associations; public health groups; vocational agricultural teachers, and leaders in community, county and state government.

Basic improvement in health through nutrition cannot be a short-term project; while results may be seen at once, determined work over a period of years must be encouraged, reports the state leader.

Work so far may be classified as follows:

(1) An adequate hot school lunch program in every county as a goal—only partially realized as yet.

(2) Home-produced food for farm families, with 75 per cent of food required produced on the farm as a goal. In Kentucky at least 15,000 farm families met this goal in 1941.

(3) A "big garden" campaign, especially stressing varieties of vegetables.

(4) A press, radio and community meeting educational drive, including talks, exhibits in stores, printed material.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

The Youth Revival continues through Sunday, closing with the evening service. Our friends, Gillespie and Ford, are certainly proving themselves faithful, capable workers. The meeting is beginning truly in a wonderful way in attendance even at the early hour, six-thirty in the morning and every morning, then, the meeting at twelve-thirty and the evening service at seven-thirty. The music, under the direction of Bro. Pete Gillespie, and the preaching of Dr. Ford are true to the Bible, and the needs of men in every way. We urge the people of all ages, whether church members or not, to hear these splendid men. Such a privilege is not often accorded a community of people. Services will continue as heretofore at place and hour.

Church school meets every Lord's Day at 9:30, with classes for all ages, taught by faithful Bible loving teachers and directed by faithful officers. Classes meet in separate rooms to study the Bible lesson for the day.

THE HEALING MINISTRY OF JESUS

LESSON TEXT—Mark 2:1-12. GOLDEN TEXT—Jesus... was moved with compassion toward them, and he healed their sick.—Matthew 14:14.

Man is more than a body. He is made up of body, soul, and spirit. In a physical world where he is so much in touch with physical nature, and the needs of his body are so much before him, he is prone to forget that there is within a spiritual nature, which is his real self.

God is interested in both the physical and the spiritual side of man. He provides all that we need for our bodies, and above all, He meets the all-important spiritual hunger of man's inner being. We find the Lord Jesus in our lesson graciously touching both spirit and body of the palsied man in response to the faith of his friends.

Faith Brings a Double Need to Christ (vv. 1-4).

This faith-stimulating story faces us first with

1. An Impossible Situation. Incapacitated and helpless physically and spiritually, this man had no one who could heal his body and restore his soul. Apart from the power of God in Jesus Christ his situation was hopeless, and thus he may well typify every one of us except for the grace of Christ.

Furthermore, his circumstances were such as to make it impossible for him to get to Jesus, who was here in his city. Even when his four friends came to his help and bore him to the house where Jesus was, they could not enter because of the crowd.

2. An Undeniable Faith. "Where there is a will there is a way." Where there is faith the obstacles may be surmounted. Having known that his friends were there, he was able to work their way in.

Had these men been bound by convention or custom they would never have put their friend at Jesus' feet. They did it to make a proper entry through the door, but it was blocked. The way to Jesus is often closed, by some custom, a vain philosophy, or a religious ceremony. Let us, like these believing men, open the road if necessary to bring our needs and our needy friends to Him.

Although mention is made only of the palsied man, it is probable that both he and the other palsied man were there for a double cure, for he was yet in his sins.

They brought him to Jesus, where their faith received a double reward from Christ (vv. 5, 12).

Immediately Jesus "saw their faith" (v. 5), just as He always does. God is on the lookout for faith and is quick to reward it. The two-fold need here brought a double-blessing.

1. Spiritual Cleansing. The man's physical affliction thus proved to be his greatest blessing, for it brought him to Jesus, who cleansed him of all unrighteousness. If he had not been palsied he might never have met the Lord. Suffering, then, may be a means of grace. That is more than a pious platitude for it has been proved repeatedly in the experience of men and women.

Certain scribes "sitting there" (they were not doing a thing to help) began to reason in their hearts that Jesus who cleansed him of all unrighteousness, because only God can forgive sin. Their theology was logical, but the premise of their argument was wrong. Only God can forgive sin, but Jesus is God, something which they in their wisdom did not realize or accept.

We (especially young people in school) should be careful that the fluent smoothness of some unbelieving philosopher's logic does not lead us astray, and away from God's truth.

Note also the solemnizing thought that Jesus knew what they were thinking in their hearts. Let us remember that "all things are naked and opened unto the eyes of him with whom we have to do" (Heb. 4:13). What does He see when He looks into our hearts?

The challenge of these questioning scribes is met by

2. Physical Healing. Forgiving sins was harder than healing the body, but these enemies of Jesus lived so much in the realm of the physical that He had to give them a demonstration of His almighty power which they could see. It was a gracious thing for Him to do, and perhaps necessary in those early days of His life and ministry.

Today, with all the light of history upon the work of God, we need to beware that we do not sit in the seat of the scornful and demand a physical sign before we will believe. God is doing great things in the spiritual realm even in our day, in which Christian men and women may share by faith.

Defense Chairman Issues Statement

Max Hurt was recently appointed chairman of the Calloway County Civilian Defense Board, to take the place of Joe T. Lovett, who was chairman but resigned upon receiving orders to report to Ft. Hayes for military duty.

Mr. Hurt, upon being made chairman, issued the following statement:

"In taking over the work which Mr. Lovett has so well begun as chairman of Civil Defense in Calloway County, I am mindful of the deep desire of every citizen of this county that our community shall render to our country the greatest service in this time of stress. I pledge to do my very best to perfect and preserve an organization for Civil Defense that will at all times be flexible and practical to answer any call in the emergencies that may arise from time to time. I am delighted to work with the fine men and women who have been selected on the various committees and I am confident that Calloway county will live up to the reputation that it has already established in Red Cross and various other civic efforts as a community which is anxious to do everything possible to preserve and defend our way of life.

The objectives of Civilian Defense in Calloway County will include the preservation of our health, our food, and clothing, our machinery, and our religious and civic morale. We shall also very definitely purpose to produce everything which will add a portion to supplies of every kind which are needed by our people. We shall contribute our money in buying defense stamps and bonds, and shall use our organization to execute thoroughly every effort to gather scrap iron, waste paper, or any other materials which we can spare or learn to spare.

In the enrollment this week it was our desire to find out three things, namely:

(1) What we are expected to do.

(2) Who can do any particular thing the best.

(3) How can we do it with the least lost motion and wasted effort.

We will try to follow up our findings with action."

Living From The Farm

By RACHEL ROWLAND, Home Demonstration Agent

Thomas P. Cooper, dean of the College of Agriculture and Home Economics, has spoken to the women, assembled for Farm and Home Week, held recently in Lexington on the University of Kentucky campus. Dean Cooper gave some points farm families should consider carefully, especially this year.

Some of the suggestions are:

1. Farm families should use their increased income to get out of debt.

2. They should not contract debts at the present time.

3. The farm family should farm well and in a business-like way. The fertility of the land not only should be maintained but should be improved.

4. They should maintain and improve both farming and living conditions.

5. The farm family should make all possible uses of science to increase and improve health of family, production of farm, etc.

6. Invest time, money, thought and effort in health, education, church, family life, rural institutions.

These suggestions may seem big and all inclusive but, when you study them carefully, aren't they practical?

Conducting Student Revival This Week

DR. W. MORRIS FORD

REV. "PETE" GILLESPIE

A series of meetings, which began Sunday and will continue through next Sunday, February 15, are being conducted by Dr. W. Morris Ford, speaker and leader, and the Rev. A. L. "Pete" Gillespie, singing leader. Each day a morning meeting is held at 6:30 a. m. on the Murray College campus, another again at 12:30 p. m., and an evening service at the First Baptist church at 7:30 p. m. These revival services, primarily for students, are open to the public.

Here I am to say "hello" once again to each and every reader of The Ledger & Times, one among the best of papers.

Most of us "Byrd Creokers" enjoyed Sunday school at Asotus Church of Christ Sunday, and a good portion of the "Bailey Creokers" were present also. Mack Hasford and Conrad Carr conducted the lesson. Singing was mostly by the girls as we have no male quartet. Bro. Orion Rowlett will preach at the church the third Saturday night and Sunday at 11 a. m. Come be with us.

Delroy Melton of the Creek who is with the Navy, is now stationed in California. He was formerly at Great Lakes, Ill. It is sad to think of any of the boys leaving for service with Uncle Sam as we do not know whether they will ever return.

Mr. and Mrs. George Barrett of Pine Bluff community visited Mr. and Mrs. Russell Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Brigham of Clarksville have been on the Creek for the past few days visiting Frank Miller and family.

Miss Ruby Miller of Faxon visited her father and brothers, Ben Miller, Carl and Robert Miller Sunday.

M. L. Barnes and Bro. and Mrs. V. F. Barnes of Murray were last Sunday afternoon guests of Mack Hasford and family.

Will Barrow has moved from the "Uncle Jimmie" Brigham house to Mrs. Maggie Phillips' farm.

V. F. Barnes of Bailey's Creek has purchased a fine farm up between Hazel and Puryear. More Tennesseans coming that way. According to reports only two have settled over here who have sold to the TVA. I don't know why, because there are really some splendid people over this way, and those who have moved to Calloway still enjoy coming back occasionally to the hills of Tennessee, and I am sure if I live to move as we plan I will still want to come back often.

Will ring off hoping to be out on Murray Route 2 by 10 o'clock Monday.—Red.

S—Have just finished reading "Ole Eagle" column in the paper. Thanks, "Ole Eagle."
